IMH invests for the future

During the last year IMH has further expanded its global presence into more markets and more customers. As part of this expansion the board of IMH has decided to form a group of companies in order to streamline the internal business and making day-to-day business easier to manage.

For you, our valuable customers and suppliers, the only difference will be the company you will be dealing with. The newly established IMH Machinery AB, a daughter company to IMH Service AB, will be responsible for all manufacturing, sales and after sales services related to all existing and new IMH machines. The staff remains and so do the contact details, with only difference of the new e-mail- and web-addresses, now ending with @imhmachinery.se

For those of you that we are having running contracts with, both supply and purchase, we will contact you shortly to update to the new contract party. All other details will remain. Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to give us a call or send us an e-mail.

Our new contact details:
